Answer the questions based on the passage:

The old lady bent down and took the teaspoon and held it out! Tom winced and dropped his eyes. Aunt Polly raised him by the usual handle - his ear - and cracked his head soundly with her thimble - "Now, Sir, what did you want to treat that poor dumb beast so, for?" I done it out of pity for him - because he hadn't any aunt. 'Hadn't any aunt! - you numb skull. What has that got to do that with it?" Aunt Polly felt a sudden painful regret. This was putting the thing in a new light, what was cruelty to a cat might be cruelty to a boy too. She began to soften; she felt sorry. Her eyes watered a little, and she put her hand on Tom's head and said gently; I was meaning for the best, Tom and, Tom, it did do you good.

Questions:

- i) Who was the poor beast?
- ii) What happened to Peter?
- iii) Why did Aunt Polly feel a sudden painful regret?
- iv) Who began to soften?
- v) Did Aunt Polly feel her mistake? How do you know?
